September/October 2019 • Hi God, It's Me

This issue introduces the season's annual theme for the Cadet Corps. It is based on Jeremiah 29:12, which says, "Then you will call on me and come and pray to me, and I will listen to you." We are able to come to God, just as we are, and have a conversation with Him. Through the year we will show the boys that God is approachable. God looks forward to the day when we will call on Him.

November 2019 • Hobbies

Many things place demands on our time. School work, music practice, and chores may not provide enjoyment, but they must be done. Reading, photography, painting, or building models give us opportunity for some quiet time and a means to exercise our creative personality. How do our hobbies help us develop gifts God has given us? How can our hobbies bring Him glory?

December 2019 • Christmas

We know the clichés: Jesus is the reason for the season, good things come in small packages, it is better to give than to receive. But what does Christmas really mean to a 10-year-old boy? How do you survive the season when life is not good? Is there a way for a young person today to make a personal connection to this heavenly gift?

January 2020 • Asking For Help

The world can seem overwhelming to an eleven-year-old. There are increasing demands put on our children to do well, be strong, and succeed. Where do you go if it all seems too much? Who can you ask for help when you don't even know what you need? It's okay to need someone to talk to.

February 2020 • Hockey

Playing on a pond behind the old farmhouse, or being paid to play on the world's largest stage, the game remains the same. We'd love to hear of some Christian athletes who have used their talents at the highest level. We can all learn a lesson about our relationships and ourselves through how we handle winning and losing, or just playing the game.

March 2020 • Space

The world is full of incredible things that the Lord has made. Planets, stars, asteroids and galaxies all demonstrate God's creativity and His desire to show us beauty in the world around us. The universe is immense, yet pales in comparison to the size of its Creator. In this issue we'll explore the world beyond that which we can see and touch.

April/May 2020 • Siblings

We don't all have a brother or sister, but for those of us that do we understand it can be a special relationship. While sometimes getting on each other's nerves, our sibling can be someone who understands our life in a way nobody else can. Whether it's an older brother or a baby sister, we will look at our family members as a gift from God.

Themes for each new season (Sept – May) are chosen around the end of the calendar year. Details are made available (on-line or by sending in an SASE) at that time. Manuscripts will be selected starting in May 2019. Fiction and non-fiction selections will be made no later than four months prior to publication date.

Quest's purpose is to show how God is at work in the lives of Cadets and in the world around them.
